

Tiger Tales

Sponsored by Marryatville Hotel

November 2024

Edition 82

This edition of Tiger Tales is sponsored by the Marryatville Hotel. Every first Thursday of the month, a group of "very old bowlers" lunch there and remember the good old days.

FRIDAY HAPPY HOURS

I still like Friday night Happy Hours! Where else in Adelaide can you enjoy a drink or two at these prices? And the company is good to boot!

VOLUNTEER OF THE MONTH

Last month's Volunteer of the Month was Gareth Morgan. Gareth recently delivered a First Aid information session attended by club members. From all accounts, that this was a great session - indeed better than any professional presentations by organisations who do this normally for a significant fee. Thanks so much, Gareth.

TIGER PATROL

The regular fortnightly Tiger Patrol continues. Gardening and tree and hedge trimming are priorities. Inside, the floors are vacuumed and mopped. Tables and chairs are cleaned. There is always something to do.

The Night Owls bowls area was thoroughly cleaned and club bowls organised by size groups ready for the new season.

Tiger Patrol welcomed new member Sandy Sandelance. He brings with him practical skills that will be appreciated. He also organised the purchase of a new battery-operated lawn mower and hedge trimmer. So, he cut the lawns.

The patrol is about to welcome another new member, Rob Kraehe, who recently skippered a rink that scored an eight end together with two sandwich makers and a pot plant watering expert.

Apparently, another eight end was scored last weekend at Novar Gardens - and three of the four were new bowlers: Ryan Muir, his daughter Aleriya and Sofija Virgo. Mum saw it happen!

NEW MEMBERS

Lots of new members, and a big welcome to you all. The most recent were Bernadette Eckermann and Andrew Messenger.

24-25 SEASON

Nearly four weeks into the pennant season and while some teams are doing well, others are disappointed with results. Practise hard and remember that every bowl counts. Things will improve. It's early days!
